Analysis of Table 1.1

In the December quarter 1995, Western Australia's population grew by 6,900 persons to 1,747,000. This is equivalent to an annual rate of population growth of 1.59%.

In the twelve months to 31 December 1995, the population grew from 1,714,400 to 1,747,000, an increase of 32,600 or 1.90%.

At 31 December 1995, there were 877,100 males and 869,900 females resident in Western Australia, a difference of 7,200 more males. Twelve months prior, there was a difference of 7,800 more males. The trend indicates a narrowing in the gap between the sexes.

Analysis of Table 1.2

In the December quarter 1995 the total increase in population was 6,900. This was 1,400 or 17% less than the increase in the previous quarter and 1,600 or 30% more than the December quarter 1994. Between September and December 1995 quarters, both net estimated overseas and interstate migration fell substantially.

The increase in population for the calendar year 1995 exceeded the increase of 1994 by 5,700 or 21%. The most significant increase was in the category of net estimated overseas migration which increased by 5,400 or 67%.

COMPONENTS OF POPULATION CHANGE
WESTERN AUSTRALIA

The number of marriages in the December quarter 1995 was more than double the number in the previous quarter. This repeated the trend of the previous year.

The number of live births dropped by 265 from September quarter and the number of deaths fell by 386. The numbers of live births and deaths were similar to those for the same quarter of the previous year.

The number of divorces increased slightly in the December quarter 1995 (up 137).

2.1 OVERSEAS ARRIVALS AND DEPARTURES BY MONTH

Analysis of Table 2.1

Total arrivals in April 1996 were up by 8% from the previous month and up by 14% from April 1995.

The number of permanent arrivals fell for the third consecutive month from the peak of January 1996.

Arrivals of short-term visitors and Australian residents increased from April 1995 by 16% and 14% respectively. Whilst long-term visitors rose by 20% compared to April 1995, long-term resident arrivals dropped by 8%.

Total departures in April 1996 decreased by 4% from the previous month, but were 7% higher than in April 1995.

All departure categories in April 1996 fell from the previous month except for departures of short-term visitors which rose by less than 1%. This category was also 18% higher than in April 1995.

Analysis of Table 4.1

4.1 MONTHLY RETAIL TURNOVER : ORIGINAL ESTIMATES

Data in this table have been revised and now show data from the redesigned retail Business Survey. see Information Paper (8511.0) issued on 1 December 1994 or Retail Trade Australia (8501.0) for more detail on the survey redesign.

Estimated turnover of Western Australian retail establishments during April 1996 was $1032.6 million (at current prices), a increase of 4.3% over the previous month. The trend estimates show a increase of 0.1% over the previous month.

From May 1995 to May 1996, trend estimates indicate a national annual growth rate of 5.9%. The annual growth rate for Western Australia for the same period was 7.1%.

4.2 CONSUMER PRICE INDEX: PERTH

Analysis of Table 4.2

The Consumer Price Index (CPI) All Groups Perth increased by 0.7% between the December quarter 1995 and the March quarter 1996

Major contributors to the change from the December quarter 1995 to the March quarter 1996 were increases in education fees, the cost of pharmaceuticals (due mainly to the reduced effect of the PBS safety net scheme), cigarettes and tobacco prices, mortgage interest charges, beer prices entertainment and the costs of hospital and medical services. Partially offsetting these increases were falls - mainly in the prices for petrol, furniture, video and sound equipment, cakes and biscuits and motor vehicles.

The increase in the CPI All Groups Perth from March 1995 to March 1996 was 3.6%.
